

Help your clients protect their equity when they must sell a home

When families face divorce or probate, selling a home is often unavoidable. These clients are already dealing with emotional and financial stress, yet the decision of which real estate agent to hire can have a major impact on their outcome.

On a $500,000 home, even a 1% difference in commission equals $5,000 of equity preserved. That money matters — whether it's dividing assets fairly in a divorce or ensuring heirs maximize their inheritance.

Seeking Agents® exists to give your clients a simple, trusted way to save money while staying in full control.
